Celebrate Milpitas With a Weekend Packed With Cultural Fun

Saturday, August 16 and Sunday, August 17, 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

By Shelley Shepherd Klaner

It's time to Celebrate Milpitas! For 19 years, the city has spotlighted its special and unique personality and will do it again this summer with this annual event highlighting community heritage. The two-day free festival, sponsored by the Milpitas Chamber of Commerce, is set for Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 16 and 17 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Milpitas Boulevard between Calaveras and Turquoise.

Gaye Morando, chamber executive director, is excited about the 2008 festival. "The entertainment is going to be fabulous," she said. "We will have multi-cultural entertainment on the community stage, as well as big-named Bay Area bands and other acts on multiple stages."

Celebrate Milpitas! A Festival of Art, Wine, Entertainment and Culture spotlights the community's unique heritage with a blend of Chinese, Hawaiian, Pakistan, Indian, Filipino, Mexican and other populations spotlighted with dance and song, as well as through cuisine available from a variety of food booths.

Team Pro Event is the planner for the 2008 festival and according to principal Steve Bajor, the main emphasis this year is on: "Culture, culture, and more culture!" The Indian Community Center is sponsoring the community stage, which will feature a myriad of local dancers and performers.

The main stage will include a return of the popular Hitmen, as well as the Pulsators and Jackie Payne on Sunday. The Saturday line-up includes: the Swing Kids, David Landon, Lava and JC Smith.

The Hitmen deliver high-energy dance music that is a favorite at Celebrate Milpitas! They have performed for more than 11 years in the Bay Area and play a combination of tunes from '70s hits to modern-day sounds. They have performed with members of Santana and Tower of Power.

A Message from...

President Dean Blomquist

The Milpitas Board of Directors has just finished the annual planning session. The plans and new ideas developed promises to bring you another great year of energy and exciting programs that will provide value to your membership with the chamber and the Milpitas community. Watch for our exciting events by checking our website at www.milpitaschamber.com and reading your Panorama, the chamber's newsletter that is sent to your business each month. We publicize our upcoming events on the front cover, and provide a two-month calendar on the back for your convenience. And, the office staff is available to answer your questions 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

August is a great month to spend time with family and friends relaxing and enjoying the long summer days. Please plan on attending the annual Celebrate Milpitas, a festival of art, wine entertainment and culture on August 16th and 17th. We are working with Team Pro Event this year to produce an exciting event that will provide more attractions, unique multicultural programs on the Community Stage, top performers both days on the Main Stage, and an expanded children's activity area. This festival brings two fun filled days of entertainment, food and crafts for the entire family. This is a great opportunity to support the Milpitas Chamber and mingle with friends. If you get a chance, stop by the chamber of commerce booth and say "hi". We look forward to seeing you there.

Once again this year the chamber of commerce is hosting the annual Milpitas Unified School District's Welcome New Teachers Reception. This is a great opportunity for the business community to share products and services with teachers new to this community. If you have a certificate, coupon or item you would like to add to the goody bags each teacher takes home, please call the chamber office.

The month of August also finds the kick off of the official annual Milpitas Map sales, and Sue and Carolyn will be returning to work on the project. Our Board and staff realize the Milpitas Map is always the most requested publication by the public, so we produce 10,000 beautiful four-color maps to accommodate the needs of the community and visitors to our city. Don't miss this opportunity to spotlight your business on this next issue.

Have a great summer! Hope to see you all at Celebrate Milpitas August 16th and 17th.

The Milpitas Chamber of Commerce 2008 Mission Statement:

The Mission of the Milpitas Chamber of Commerce is to be the central source of information and activities to enhance the success of our City, of our business community in general and of our members in particular.

Chamber's 51st Anniversary was Memorable Top Business Leaders were Recognized, Board Installation Awards and Accolades

The gathering for the 51st Annual Installation and Awards Banquet looked like they had stepped off a page from Vogue Magazine. The men were dapper in their black tie attire and the women appeared to have come from a "Rodeo Drive" shopping spree when they arrived. We were assured, however, our participants were a loyal group that had 'Shopped Milpitas'.

The gala event held at Embassy Suites, brought past presidents, corporate and political leaders, charter members and sponsors to celebrate the chamber's 51st year installation banquet.

Past president and 1987 Business Person of the Year recipient, Dan Youngs, set the up-beat atmosphere, when he expertly moved the program along as the evening's master of ceremonies. A big "Thank You" is extended to the sponsors of the 51st Anniversary Awards Banquet.

The Milpitas Chamber is holding their Eighth Annual Welcome Teacher's Reception on Tuesday, August 19 at Mount Olive Church, located at 1989 E. Calaveras Boulevard in Milpitas. The gala reception will be held from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. in the church hall, and the chamber is inviting the members to attend so they can welcome the new teachers to the community.

The Committee is contacting restaurants, organizing the entertainment and coordinating items for the Goody Bags.

Chamber Requests Certificates/Coupons for Goody Bags

The chamber is reaching out to the business community with a request for gift certificates or coupons to be placed in the teacher's Goody Bags. The program committee is seeking coupons for dry cleaning, auto service, hair styling, entertainment, or discounts for services pertinent to the needs of a newcomer to the community. We need your support to ensure our teachers receive a "Milpitas Welcome" from the business community. We will be reaching out to some new teachers, and teachers that will be returning for the 2008-2009 school year. If you can offer support, or have questions concerning this program, please give Gaye Morando a call at 408-262-2613.

The Hitmen

The Pulsators are feel-good rockers who have a following in the Bay Area and have performed on stages such as the House of Blues in Los Angeles and the Fillmore in San Francisco. They have two albums: "The Pulsators" and "Here's To You."

Jackie Payne career began 40 years ago with his father's gospel band. His soulful career has included being nominated for a Grammy award in 1993, and for the blues music award for best male souls blue artist in 2007 and 2008.

The Swing Kids are a group of jazz musicians, who formed while in middle school and continued to play together after they attended different high schools. They are true showmen, who now range in age from high school juniors to college sophomores. They have performed at the San Jose Jazz Festival, Children's Discovery Museum and other events. They have released three records. Expect to enjoy swing music and don't be surprised to experience a conga line with the audience in tow.

Landon is a popular guitarist who has performed at the Monterey Bay Blues Festival and has released three discs on the Whip Records label including "Doin' It On Your Own," "Chasin' The Blues," and "Live at Lou's."

J.C. Smith is another powerful bluesman and Lava will also delight the audiences.

The event will also feature more than 100 arts and crafts exhibitors as well as a row of local businesses. Premium wines and microbrews as well as nonalcoholic beverages will be available.

An antique car show will feature Studebakers, Model T's and other cool old rides.

Children will delight in the wide selection of carnival rides including a train ride, as well as hands-on art projects and other activities. The Milpitas Historical Society is showcasing a historical fire truck and the Milpitas Fire Department is bringing the modern version and will also hand out giveaways. The Kids Safe House will provide educational fire awareness to the tykes and the Milpitas Fire Department will fingerprint the children.

Insuring Your Vacation? Make Sure You're Actually Covered

High energy costs, a tough economy, you name it; there is still plenty of travel delays and headaches in the skies and on the ground. Those delays can potentially cost a lot of money, which is why it's a good idea to carry travel insurance on expensive trips to cover missed connections that can delay your arrival for a day or more. The same goes for lost baggage or sudden medical expenses in different regions of the U.S. or other parts of the world.

But take a moment before you rush out to buy a Cadillac policy for your two-week trip to Hawaii. Travel insurance, like any coverage, should be tailored to your specific needs. You'll see it sold as a one-size fits-all product, but that's not how you should buy it. Here are some pointers:

Call your HR department or health insurer: Yes, you might be out hundreds or perhaps thousands if you can't get to your destination, but that's not the biggest potential money risk on any trip. What if your health benefits won't cross state lines, much less international borders? As you're planning your trip, check to see if your personal health coverage for you and family members will be effective at your destination. If the answer is no, see whether your credit card company offers health care coverage there and if so, what it costs and what it entails. The next step is purchasing specific travel health insurance that will be accepted at your destination, which may be sold in a package with other coverage we'll mention momentarily. Also, it might make sense to make an action plan for a health emergency. Call the concierge at your destination to get information on the best nearby hospitals and clinics so you can check if your coverage applies, and see what ground or air transport options exist to get you to the best hospital. Transport can be costly if you're in a remote location.

Start at least a month in advance: Most people make major trip reservations fairly far in advance to get the best fares and hotel rates, and you'll need to do the same for travel insurance. You'll find that carriers are particularly picky about pre-existing conditions for medical or dental treatments, so read the fine print.

There's no such thing as full coverage – unless you're willing to pay for it: What's full coverage? That's a good question, and it sometimes depends on dozens of factors unique to your trip. Your carrier might not offer protection on your chosen airline or cruise line. You'll find that terrorism insurance is rare and complicated. And you have to examine medical insurance options closely to understand exactly what is covered. The rare soup-to-nuts coverage-covering trip cancellations, lost luggage delays that leave you stranded, flight accident, emergency medical and medical evacuations-is typically priced in the hundreds of dollars and may only cover up to 75 percent of the total cost of your trip.

Make sure your insurance covers missed connections: Cancellation insurance doesn't cover everything. Investigate whether a missed connection-and the resulting meals, overnight hotel bills and taxi or train transportation you'll need if you're stuck overnight in a strange city-is covered.

Start online: Go to some of the leading websites that deal in single or multiple-insurer offerings. InsureMyTrip.com is a market leader and a good first stop in analyzing coverage-you start by punching in the necessary information on your trip (dates, age of travelers, medical coverage needed, etc) and it spits back more than a dozen possibilities at all price levels. Clicking on any of the choices will give you a detailed view of what those policies will and won't cover.

Ask about hurricane coverage: The 2008 Atlantic hurricane season began June 1 and will run through the end of November. Even if you don't live in a hurricane area, hurricanes can disrupt the flow of air travel all over the country. Ask whether your travel insurance has hurricane coverage-or other weather-related coverage-and what you'll need to file a claim.

Fight ATM fees- before you leave: It's not guaranteed, but your bank might agree to waive any fees you incur at overseas ATMs, if you ask in advance. Call them and check.

Watch that cell phone: Increasingly domestic cellular phones are working in more areas of the world. That's the good news. The bad news is whether you'll be charged extra fees for using your phone in those areas. Check before you leave.

Marooned? Ask for a break: If you're attacked as the result of a major disaster

(weather-related or otherwise) always ask if your airline, hotel or other components of your vacation might be willing to give you a credit or discount on your bill. It's rare, but some destinations might see it as a chance to build goodwill so you'll be a repeat customer. The worst thing they can do is say no.
